A series of questions and answers is included to help you with your decision. Full details are contained in the Terms and Conditions, which you should read before you take out your SIPP.

What is a SIPP?

A SIPP (self invested personal pension scheme) is a type of pension plan that allows you to direct how your retirement savings are invested. If you have a financial adviser, your adviser is responsible for the selection and management of the underlying investments, as has been agreed with you. If you don't have a financial adviser this will be your responsibility. However, if your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023 you will only be able to invest in a single portfolio with one discretionary fund manager from our panel investment partners.

A SIPP also gives you flexibility (as allowed by current legislation) on how and when you take your retirement benefits.

What is the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP?

The Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP is a SIPP provided by BW SIPP LLP. It is issued under the Barnett Waddingham Self Invested Personal Pension (the scheme), which is a registered pension scheme and is governed by a Trust Deed and Rules. A copy of the Trust Deed and Rules will be issued to you when you apply to take out a Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP and is available from our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/

BW SIPP LLP is the operator of the scheme and is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), the independent financial services regulator.

Where we refer to 'us' or 'we' in this document, we mean BW SIPP LLP as the operator.

Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP aims

The Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP is intended to:

- Offer you a tax-efficient and flexible way of saving for retirement;
- Allow you the option to invest in either a single portfolio with one investment provider from our panel, or by paying an additional administration fee (as set out in our fee schedule), in a broader investment range which may include one or more investment provider from our panel. You can also change between the two. If your SIPP was set up on or after 1 December 2023, you will only be able to invest in a single portfolio with one discretionary fund manager from our panel investment partners unless you appoint a financial adviser.

- Pay benefits to you, usually from age 55 (57 from 2028), or on earlier ill-health or serious ill-health;
- Use any remaining funds on your death to pay benefits to your beneficiaries; and
- Treat you fairly in all our dealings with you.

Your commitment

You must:

- Ensure that you understand the structure, risks and benefits of the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP, and review it regularly to ensure that it remains appropriate for your circumstances;
- Appoint a financial adviser to advise you whether to choose the single portfolio investment option, or the broader investment range, and then how to invest your SIPP funds, or where you do not appoint a financial adviser and your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023, you must direct how your SIPP funds are to be invested and will be limited to a single portfolio with one discretionary fund manager from our panel investment partners;
- Accept and comply with the Terms and Conditions of the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP, as may be amended from time to time;
- Respond promptly to our requests for information, such as when paying contributions, making investments, accessing/reviewing benefits, or in respect of property valuations;
- Notify us of any changes to your personal circumstances, which may affect your SIPP;
- Pay all fees as set out in our Schedule of Fees available on our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/ and be personally responsible for any charges relating to your SIPP that we cannot deduct from your SIPP; and
- Not make any unauthorised payments to or from your SIPP.

Risks

- The value of your SIPP (and any income from it) may go down as well as up, and is not guaranteed. Past performance is no indication of future performance. Inflation reduces the worth of your pension benefits;
- At any point, including at the point of accessing benefits and within the cancellation period, the value of your SIPP may be lower than the amount invested;
- Some investments may be difficult to sell; for example, commercial property and unquoted shares, and it may take time to realise the value of these investments. This may affect your ability to take benefits from your SIPP. Please refer to our Property Guide available on our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/ for more information on holding property as an asset of your SIPP;
- The returns on your SIPP from underlying investments may be lower than shown on any illustration you have received from the investment provider, or from us;
- Your SIPP can accept a wide range of investments each with its own inherent risks. You can appoint an FCA regulated financial adviser to recommend investments for you. If you don't appoint a financial adviser, you will be responsible for reviewing and selecting your investments. If your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023 you will only be able to invest in a single portfolio with one discretionary fund manager from our panel investment partners. If your SIPP was opened before this date and you haven't appointed a financial adviser, it will be your responsibility for reviewing and selecting your investments which may involve reviewing fund prospectuses, fact sheets, Key Investor Information Documents or Key Information Documents for specific details. We are unable to provide any legal, financial, investment or tax advice in connection with your SIPP or any investments;

- Your benefits may be lower than your illustration shows. This could be for a number of reasons such as the investment performance is less than illustrated, the charges increase, you pay less into your pension and/or tax rules change.
- If you transfer funds from another pension scheme to your SIPP, the eventual benefits that you take may not be comparable. If you're transferring in cash, your retirement savings won't be invested and you won't benefit from any investment growth while the transfer takes place. You should take advice from a financial adviser before deciding to make a transfer;
- Our charges may change in future. We will notify you in advance if we increase our charges;
- If there is insufficient cash and investments in your SIPP to meet any charges relating to your SIPP, you will be liable to meet the shortfall personally;
- You should carefully consider the tax implications of taking payments from your SIPP. You may have to pay a substantial amount of tax if you make large withdrawals in a short period; and
- Future changes to pensions and tax legislation may affect your contributions, investments and the benefits that you can take from your SIPP.

The above risks are not exhaustive, and are based on our understanding of current legislation, which may be subject to change.

Questions and answers

General information about the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP

Am I eligible for a Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP?

All UK residents are eligible regardless of age or employment status, but the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP is unlikely to be suitable for investment in a single portfolio if the initial funds contributed (including any transfers-in) are less than £50,000 (including any tax relief on contributions), and less than £100,000 (including any tax relief on contributions) for investment in a broader investment range.

How flexible is the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP?

The Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP is a comprehensive and flexible SIPP offering the full range of flexible benefits. Apart from the minimum fund suitability levels noted above, there are no minimum contribution levels and no requirements for a minimum level of investment. However, if your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023 and you have not appointed a financial adviser, you will only be able to invest in a single portfolio with a discretionary fund manager from our panel investment partners.

Is the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP a stakeholder pension?

No. Stakeholder pensions must meet minimum Government standards covering matters such as contributions and charges, and are generally available. A stakeholder pension may meet your needs as well as the Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP and may have lower charges.

How much does it cost?

Our fees

Our fees are set out in our Schedule of Fees, which you should read carefully. Available on our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/

Your financial adviser's charges

If you have a financial adviser, your adviser's charges may be met directly from your SIPP assets.

We ask you to confirm how you want your financial adviser's charges to be paid by completing an authorisation in your application to establish your SIPP. You must also give us 30 days' notice of any changes, and complete a form confirming the changes.

You may also incur additional fees in respect of your investments, or from other professional advisers.

Deduction of fees and charges from your SIPP

Our fees and your financial adviser's charges if applicable, and any other charges arising in respect of your investments will be met from your cash in the client money account, (unless they are being deducted directly by your panel investment provider).

How do I apply?

You or your financial adviser will need to submit an application and supplementary paperwork to us, which you can obtain from our website (www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/flexiblesipp), or from your financial adviser. It is also now possible to apply online for your SIPP. Where you have not appointed a financial adviser you will need to submit an application and supplementary paperwork to us, which you can obtain from our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk-flexible-sipp/apply-now/apply-now-sipp-member-application

Can I transfer other pension plan funds to my SIPP?

You can transfer other pension plan funds to your SIPP with our consent. If you have appointed a financial adviser, you should consult with them before deciding to transfer. We can only accept a transfer from a defined benefit scheme, or from a pension scheme or policy which contains a guaranteed annuity rate (GAR) if you have taken advice from a financial adviser in respect of the transfer, and they have recommended that the transfer proceeds.

Transfers must be from a registered pension scheme or a recognised overseas pension scheme (ROPS) and can be made in cash, or the assets you already hold may be able to be re-registered to your SIPP (sometimes called an in-specie transfer).

We may accept a transfer of a flexi-access drawdown fund and a capped drawdown fund.

How will you look after my SIPP?

Your SIPP is an individual SIPP issued under the scheme.

BW SIPP Trustees Limited is the trustee of the scheme. Its sole purpose is to hold the scheme assets for the benefit of you and all the other members.

The operator is responsible for administering and running the scheme on a day-to-day basis.

Contributions and tax relief

Who can pay contributions into my SIPP?

You can pay personal contributions into your SIPP, and contributions can also be made by another person on your behalf. This can include your partner, spouse, employer and some third parties. However, contributions will only be eligible for tax relief, as detailed below.

Is there a minimum amount?

There is no minimum contribution amount, although a Barnett Waddingham Flexible SIPP is unlikely to be suitable for investment in a single portfolio if the initial funds contributed (including any transfers-in) are less than £50,000 (including any tax relief on contributions), and less than £100,000 (including any tax relief on contributions) for investment in a broader investment range.

How are contributions paid?

Regular contributions must be paid by direct debit. Single contributions can be paid by BACS, CHAPS, direct bank transfer, or faster payments.

What tax relief am I entitled to on my contributions?

Tax relief is available on personal contributions if you are a relevant UK individual; that is, someone who is resident in the UK for tax purposes at some point during the tax year, or who otherwise has relevant UK earnings subject to UK income tax.

Employer contributions are paid gross, (with any corporation tax relief available claimed by the employer), so there is no need for us to claim the tax relief on your behalf.

Once you reach age 75, personal contributions do not qualify for tax relief although employer contributions may continue to qualify.

HMRC sets a limit to restrict the tax relief that is available to individuals on an annual basis, which is called the annual allowance (AA). Tax relief can be claimed on personal contributions up to 100% of your relevant UK earnings for the tax year, (subject to the AA, if lower), or the 'basic amount', (which is £3,600 (gross) until the Government notifies otherwise), if you do not have any relevant UK earnings, or if these are less than £3,600.

We will assume that all contributions paid by you are eligible for tax relief, and it is your responsibility to let us know if this is incorrect. At our discretion, we may accept contributions that do not qualify for tax relief.

How do I get the tax relief?

We will claim any basic rate relief you are entitled to directly from HMRC. Currently, this means that for each £80 that you personally contribute, we will claim £20 on your behalf and credit this to your SIPP. You must tell us within 30 days if you are no longer entitled to tax relief on your contributions.

If you pay tax at higher than basic rate, you are responsible for claiming any additional tax relief yourself from HMRC via your self-assessment tax return.

What is the annual allowance (AA)?

The AA is £60,000 (gross) for the tax year 2024/25 and for each subsequent tax year, until the Government notifies otherwise. However, if you take flexible benefits, the maximum amount you can contribute to your SIPP and to all other money purchase pension schemes will be restricted to £10,000 (gross) for the tax year 2024/25 and for each subsequent tax year, until the Government notifies otherwise. This is known as the money purchase annual allowance (MPAA). You can contribute the remaining portion of the overall AA to defined benefit schemes.

Some individuals may be subject to a tapering of their annual allowance. Please refer to the Terms and Conditions for more details which can be found on our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/

It is your responsibility to monitor whether your contributions will exceed your AA.

What happens if I exceed the annual allowance?

If you exceed the AA and are not able to carry forward sufficient unused AA from the previous three tax years, you will have to pay the AA charge on the excess. The AA charge will be based on the marginal rate of tax relief due on the contribution, and is paid by submitting a self-assessment tax return to HMRC. You are responsible for this, as you may have multiple pension arrangements.

Banking arrangements

We have client accounts in our name with our chosen bank which are used collectively for all scheme members.

One of these accounts is a client money account in which we hold cash as client money in accordance with FCA requirements.

Our chosen bank pays interest to you, which is currently tax-free, on any cash that you hold in the client money account. Subject to the bank base rate amount, from time to time, we may also receive interest on the total cash deposits held in the client accounts. The current interest rates paid by our chosen bank are found in our Banking Arrangements document and is available from us on request and on our website (www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/flexiblesipp).

If you opt to invest in the broader investment range, you may choose to hold cash in a separate deposit account in addition to the client money account. Some banks may pay us commission for certain deposit types, but we will not take commission where it is possible to switch it off. If your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023, you will only be able to invest in the broader investment range if you have appointed a financial adviser.

Investments

Where can I invest?

You can invest your funds in a single portfolio with one investment provider from our panel, or in the broader investment range we permit which may include one or more investment providers from our panel. If your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023, unless you have appointed a financial adviser you will only be able to invest in a single portfolio with one discretionary fund manager from our panel.

Your adviser should conduct their own due diligence before recommending a panel investment provider to you, and if you do not have an adviser, you should make all relevant enquiries yourself before selecting your panel investment provider.

You can change from a single portfolio to the broader investment range or from the broader investment range to a single portfolio. Please refer to our Schedule of Fees for the fees that are payable if you want to change.

What investments can I hold in the broader range?

Our Allowable Investment Schedule sets out the investments we will allow within your SIPP. If you are investing in the broader investment range we will check the investments you select are legally allowed and, for non-standard investments, that they pass our due diligence requirements.

Purchase of residential property (except for exempted property) and personal borrowing from your SIPP are not allowed.

Please be aware that we are not able to buy and sell shares on your behalf. You will need to use a stockbroker or access an on-line share dealing platform, in order to buy and sell shares through your SIPP.

Commercial property

If you want to invest in commercial property through your SIPP, please read our Property Guide and complete our Property Purchase Questionnaire, available from our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/ before proceeding. Our fees, and the fees of the solicitor, surveyor and all other related costs will be met from your SIPP. Please refer to our Fee Schedule for information on our property fees, available on our website at www.barnett-waddingham.co.uk/barnett-waddingham-flexible-sipp/flexible-sipp-literature/. If your SIPP was opened on or after 1 December 2023, you will need to appoint a financial adviser if you want to invest in commercial property.

How are the investments taxed?

Investments grow free of UK capital gains tax and income is paid free of UK income tax. The key exceptions to this are tax on UK dividends, which cannot be reclaimed and profits from being a member of a (property investment) LLP.

How will I know how my SIPP is performing?

We will issue you with a yearly statement showing the value of your SIPP fund. This will give you an updated projection of your benefits, on a given set of assumptions. This is issued for guidance purposes only and there is no guarantee that your SIPP will be able to provide the illustrated figures.

You can request additional valuations during the year, but there may be an extra charge for this. If you have an investment with a panel investment provider, the investment provider may send you more regular valuations.

We accept no responsibility for the performance of your selected investments, or for any liabilities which may be associated with them.

Neither we, nor the trustee, will be liable to you for any claims, costs, expenses or losses arising to your SIPP and its underlying investments, as a result of any loss on the investments in your SIPP.

Retirement benefits

When can I take my money out?

You can only normally take benefits from age 55 (57 from 2028), but you may be able to do so earlier on grounds of ill-health or serious ill-health, or if you have a protected pension age.

What income can I receive?

Drawdown pension

You can choose to receive income subject to PAYE income tax by keeping your SIPP invested, and drawing pension income from the fund directly.

If you designate funds into drawdown for the first time on or after 6 April 2015, the funds will be designated into a flexi-access drawdown fund. There is no limit on the amount that you can draw each year, and you can take payments as one or more lump sums, or as regular income payments. You can choose to designate new funds into a flexi-access drawdown fund in stages, although the minimum amount in each stage is £1,000.

You should make sure that you understand how much tax you will have to pay before you decide how much flexi-access drawdown pension to take. If you take several large payments in a short period of time, you may be liable to pay a lot of income tax.

If you have a capped drawdown fund under another pension scheme, you can choose to transfer this to your SIPP and to continue taking a capped drawdown pension, or to convert this to a flexi-access drawdown fund.

Buying an annuity

You can also choose to receive taxed income by purchasing an annuity or a short-term annuity from a provider on the open market, with some or all of the funds in your SIPP.

What are the lump sum allowances?

From 6 April 2024, the Lump Sum Allowance (LSA) and Lump Sum and Death Benefit Allowance (LSDBA) replace the Lifetime Allowance. They limit the value of tax-free lump sums you can take across all of your pensions.

If a lump sum is paid that exceeds your available allowances, the excess amount will be subject to income tax at your marginal rate.

If you hold any Lifetime Allowance protections, these will still apply to the LSA and LSDBA.

What lump sum payments can I receive?

Pension commencement lump sum

When you designate new funds into drawdown pension or purchase an annuity, depending on your available lump sum allowances, you can take a cash lump sum known as a pension commencement lump sum (PCLS). The amount is currently up to 25% of the value of the funds you have designated to be crystallised into drawdown pension, or which are used to purchase the annuity, and at present it is paid tax-free.

Uncrystallised funds pension lump sum

If you are eligible to do so, you can choose to access some or all of the uncrystallised funds in your SIPP by taking an Uncrystallised Funds Pension Lump Sum (UFPLS).

Usually, 25% of the UFPLS will be tax-free with the rest subject to income tax at your marginal rate. Depending on your available lump sum allowances, the tax-free amount may be less than 25%.

There is a minimum amount of £1,000, and you can take a single or series of UFPLS in this way, although you must consider the amount of tax that will be payable if you take large payments.

What benefits might I receive?

The benefits that you might receive depend on the value of the investments in your SIPP when you retire. The rate of income available from an annuity or under drawdown pension will depend on a number of factors on top of the funds available, including some or all of the following; your age, health and lifestyle, form of pension, any spouse's or beneficiary's provision, and underlying investment yields.

Death benefits

What happens to my SIPP when I die?

We will decide who to pay your benefits to and how much each person should receive. We will take account of any beneficiaries you nominate in an expression of wishes form, but this is not binding on us. Payment of benefits will be made at our discretion, and in line with the Trust Deed and Rules. This is so that your beneficiaries do not end up paying inheritance tax on the death benefits they receive.

Beneficiaries do not have to be dependants. You can also nominate trusts and charities, not just individuals.

Death benefits can be paid to beneficiaries as a cash lump sum, or as income from a flexi-access drawdown fund or an annuity.

The tax treatment of death benefits depends on whether you die before or after age 75, and on your available lump sum and death benefit allowance (LSDBA) at the time of your death. Please refer to the Terms and Conditions for more details.

Cancellation

Can I change my mind?

Once we accept your application, we will send you a cancellation notice and form. You will then have 30 days from the date you receive the cancellation notice to cancel your SIPP and you must confirm this by completing and returning the cancellation form to us, using the contact details given in the 'How to contact us' section.

If you cancel your SIPP within the first 30 days, the amount you will receive back depends on the type of payment made:

- If you have made a cash contribution that has not been invested, the value of your contribution will be returned to you with any interest that has been paid to you by our chosen bank in respect of your contribution. Interest that has not been paid to you, but has accrued on your contribution, will not be included;
- If you have made an investment, you will receive back the value of the underlying investment, which may be more or less than the initial amount that you invested; and
- If you cancel a transfer payment, the value of the underlying investments will be returned to the transferring scheme – where possible - which may be lower than the transfer value that was originally transferred to your SIPP. If the transferring scheme refuses to accept the returned transfer payment, you must select an alternative pension scheme to which the transfer payment can be paid.

After the first 30 days, cancellation rights will also apply to any additional cash transfer payments. However, if you want to make a transfer to your SIPP from a defined benefit scheme or a pension scheme or policy that contains a GAR either within the first 30 days or subsequently, we will not normally request the transfer until the 30 day right to withdraw period has expired, unless you choose to waive the right to cancel and have confirmed this to us in writing.

If you want to make an in specie transfer of assets either within the first 30 days or subsequently, we will not arrange the transfer until the 30 day transfer cancellation period has expired, unless you choose to waive the right to cancel and have confirmed this to us in writing.

Cancellation rights also apply to every crystallisation into drawdown pension, and payment of an UFPLS. You must return any income and lump sum to us within 30 days from the date you receive the cancellation notice.

You will not be entitled to a further cancellation period in relation to additional contributions made to your SIPP after the first 30 days following its establishment.

In all cases where cancellation rights apply, you will have 30 days from the date you receive the cancellation notice to cancel the payment or transfer.
